

Join the new international master course:

FHV341 Disability, Social Justice & Climate-Resilient Development

The Master Course is a collaboration with the University of Exeter (UK) and Makerere University (Uganda). It offers novel opportunities for interactive, cross-cultural student learning and collaboration, alongside lectures by international expert scholars in the fields of climate justice, transformative and place-based adaptation, climate change, wellbeing, and disability.

Course responsible: Siri Ellen Hallstrøm Eriksen

Teachers: Ruth Kjærsti Raanaas

ECTS credits: 5

Teaching language: English

Teaching Method: Hybrid – physical and digital global classroom on ZOOM with students from University of Exeter (UK) and Makerere University (Uganda).

Teaching exam periods: Spring parallel
– 1/02/2024 t.o.m 21/03/2024

Course Frequency: Special Curriculum, only in spring 2024

For more information:

Sustainability Arenas
TOWARDS